Bose®: 'custom-engineered' sound, from Renault Mégane to Renault Latitude

The partnership signed between Renault and Bose in 2008, which initially covered Renault Koleos and Renault Laguna Coupé, has today been extended to include the Mégane range. The Renault Mégane and Renault Scénic line-ups are effectively the first to feature the latest Bose® Energy Efficient Series audio system. In the case of Renault Latitude, the quality of the Bose® sound experience will be especially appreciated inside the spacious cabin of this particularly quiet new saloon. Order books are already open for Bose® Edition versions across the Renault sales network.
